

Bob Tebow Evangelistic Association

“The harvest is plentiful...the world is the field.”

During the JULY 2007 SUMMER TRIP, 41 Americans traveled to the Philippines for two to five weeks to preach the Good News of Jesus Christ to the Filipino people. As the Americans worked with over 40 BTEA national evangelists, 590,299 people were preached to, and 473,356 people publicly indicated that they had put their trust in Jesus Christ alone for the free gift of eternal life! The team traveled to 864 schools, also visiting malls, markets, and government offices, giving the summer missionaries many personal witnessing opportunities. God used the team in incredible ways, and through their efforts and your prayers and financial investments, He made these amazing results possible!

Dustin Schadt with students

Dustin Schadt: On a humid Monday morning, over 10,000 students gathered for a normal day of high school in Quezon City. God gave me the opportunity to preach the good news of Jesus, and over 9,000 students were ushered into the Kingdom of God.

Melissa Gray and Charles Stone, heading out on a boat to share with schools on an island in the Pacific Ocean.

Charles Stone: One day after I shared the gospel at an elementary school, I was giving “high fives” and shaking hands with students. A little girl took my hand and said something to me. I asked her, “What did you say?” She pulled my hand down, so I bent over so she could speak into my ear. She said, “Thank you for coming and telling me how I can have Jesus in my heart.”

James Spencer Holmes: It is an amazing feeling to preach the Gospel and see most of the people place their trust in Christ. I long for the day in heaven when I will see tens of thousands of Filipinos with tears of joy rolling down their faces saying, “Thank you, James, thank you.”

James Spencer Holmes with students

Tiffany Gray: As I was waiting on my team at an elementary school, I noticed a group of mothers sitting together, so I began sharing the gospel with them. I wondered if they were listening, but all of them gave their full attention when I started talking about Jesus coming to earth to die for their sins. I shared my personal testimony and told them they, too, could know all their sins are forgiven and that they have a home in heaven. One of the mothers began to cry. After I led them through the sinner’s prayer, I asked them who just chose to trust in Jesus. All 11 of them raised their hands! Afterwards, I shook each of their hands. The mother who was crying now smiled at me through her tears and especially thanked me!

Tiffany Gray with orphan Jonruel

Andrew Hutcheson: At the end of the day, I spoke to a class of elementary students. As soon as they finished praying, I opened my eyes, and I stopped speaking, as many of them had smiles on their faces and some had their hands on their hearts. The Holy Spirit immediately reminded me of Isaiah 1:18, “...though your sins are as scarlet, they will be as white as snow.”

Andrew Hutcheson with students